Timeless Design, modern materials, unrivalled quality

Sustainability meets design

PURLINE has been established on the market as a sustainable flooring solution for many years. Based on innovative high-performance composite material, it reduces the ecological footprint – without compromising on quality and design.

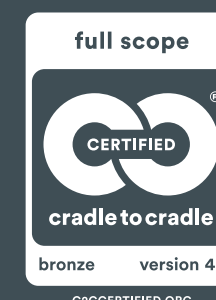

From the classic pattern to the modern structural provider

Discover the timeless fascination of the herringbone pattern and create interiors that stylishly combine classic and modern in an elegant way. The wide range of diverse decors opens up endless design possibilities and thus offers great potential. From traditional to modern, from subtle to striking – the multifaceted herringbone pattern fits harmoniously into any architectural concept and allows for a unique floor design. Even more individuality can be created by cleverly combining different decors.

Let your creativity run free and create impressive spaces that are aesthetically pleasing and timeless.
